

YI UN-SANG
(1903- )

FORSYTHIAS

When I got your letter telling me
That the damson-flowers were gone,
I wrote to say that never before
Have my forsythias shone
With quite so rich a yellow.

Strange, that we could not bring,
Nor you nor I, our hands to shape
The character for spring.