

Andrew Sneddon

SNAPSHOT, IRAN

Pumped water,
Cool and clear-eyed,
Gushing from the fountainhead.

She must lean carefully
On slippery rocks to reach it.
She makes a cupid's bow of her lips
And gently kisses the skin of the flow.

She's bent a little at the waist.
She closes her eyes.