MILITANCY

It's an early Spring so They celebrate by naming a new constellation after Damir Dokic!
So what if it'll be obscure in four years they argue, it's contemporary now! And just like Diogenes he turns up at the press conference with a brace of margaritas under his belt and it pisses Them off no end. And how are we supposed to reply? After all They're the ones running the joint not me or my doubting cadre. It's like wasted sweat in the sun and the smallest victory if they even raise an eyebrow so I celebrate by going to the Co-op for carob, oiling my weapons and threading daisies through the handles of the wheelie bins, hoping the garbage men will ignore our sins.
