

Will Fraser

ABOUT TRADITIONS

Let's give a
big hand to all
those brave politicians who sweated it out on
the parliamentary benches during our recent involvement in the iraq war
spare a thought please for our political heroes in Canberra for winter there can be hell
and
it's no picnic either
finding something real to say
day in
and day out
but
it's a gallant tradition these party members follow one stretching all the way back to Gallipoli
and
while the plush green leather benches in parliament house may have changed since alas
I fear
the bums on them
remain
much the same.

